

Short Story Competition

We are looking for a story set in the Dorset of the future,
when all energy is generated renewably, by windmills, solar panels or biogas, and all cars are electric.

Let your imagination run wild and picture how that world will look and how it will work.

What effect will it have on the food that we eat?

What will it mean for wildlife and biodiversity?

However, don't just describe the scene – tell us a story about interesting characters that is set in a green world.

Competition entry is open to under 16's living in Dorset
1st prize £100 Amazon vouchers plus runner up prizes

Competition closes 31st March 2013

Visit our website for full details and to enter

sponsored by respectorganics